THE TREND OF TRADE.

The Shoe Upper Industry is at This Time in Splendid Shape.

MANUFACTURERS BEHIND ORDERS.

Canned Meats and Dressed Beef Moving Out Very Lively.

THE WEEK'S WORK AT LIBERTY YARDS

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, THURSDAT, October 17, 1889. J. D. Chantler & Co., who represent the shoe upper industry in this city, and for that matter lead in this line in the United States, within the past year removed from the McCance block and established themselves on the fifth floor of the Diamond street DISPATCH building. It was thought that the new commodious quarters would be sufficient for a number of years. But business has grown until it has been found pecessary lately to secure further room. When the firm changed its quarters the number of hands employed was 86, twothirds of whom were women and girls. Now there are, in round numbers, 100 employed, and with the increase in number of employes has come improved machinery, which enables the 100 hands to turn out proportionately more stuff than heretofore. Within the past week or two 15 new machines have been introduced Increasing the Capacity fully 30 per cent. The double stitching and scolloping machines of the Singer Manuincturing Company, and various other new devices have recently been added so that the 100 hands now employed can readily do the work which a few years ago would have required fully double that number. The Chantler quired fully double that number. The Chantler firm is a month or more behind its orders, but, with improved facilities and new machines hope to catch up before the month is out. Orders are coming in from the furthest East and West. A look at the books of the firm showed orders of recent date from Portland, Ore, Spokane Falls, Los Angeles, California, Salt Lake, Boston and New York. It is a pleasure Luare, Dosion and New York. It is a pleasure to discover that Pittsburg is doing big things outside of the heavy weight industries. In the line of shoe upper manufacturing we are at the front, and this industry was never before in as prosperous a condition as it is at the present time. Canned Ments and Dressed Beef.

The canned meat industry has passed its busy time, but October's trade so far, has been fully 50 per cent larger than last October, according to the testimony of a representative of the Armour firm. The brisk season for this trade is mour firm. The brisk season for this trade is in the summer months, when the societies and Sunday schools take to the woods. It is within bounds to say that the trade in canned means the past summer was 100 per cent better than any previous season.

An idea of the growth of the dressed beef industry in this city may be gathered by the following figures: The sales of the firms engaged here in this line last week were in round numbers as follows: Winter & Dellenbach, 200 carcasses; Armour & Co., 170; Swift, 131, and hill, 136. From these figures it appears that the daily sales of dressed beeves in this city are, in round numbers, 140 head. In audition to this one of the four firms mentioned above rethis one of the four firms mentioned above re-ports sales of 40 to 50 dressed sheep and as many calves each week. The other firms, no doubt, do equally well. It is evident from these figures that the dressed meat industry has come to stay.

Liberty Live Stock.

It will be seen from the accompanying report of the week's transactions that the through run of cattle was unusually large, and local receipts unusually light. A difference of 1,600 head of cattle for the local trade in ordinary times would have had some effect on markets. This season, however, is an exception to all rules, and breaks all precedents. Prime cattle were lower this week than last in face of the light run. The only class of stock that showed firmness was the light tidy butcher stock. Low grades had touched bottom before, and were fairly steady this week.

Sheep were a shade higher, and hogs were firm at last week's prices.

The following table shows transactions for the week at the East Liberty yards:

Drygoods. New York. October 17.—There was a busy-ant entrit in the drygoods market, with a good business in spring fabrics. Staple and fancy goods for the current season were rarely so closely sold up, and there is perceptible im-provement in the tone. Print cloths are also firmer, and other weak spots are vanishing. Prices are without change, but an advance in some directions would occasion little surprise. The jobbling trade continues fair, but without special feature.

Day of Ups and Downs in the Chicago A Good Inquiry for All Kinds of Wheat Pit-A Moderate Business in Corn-A Little More Interest Property in City and Suburbs. Manifested in Lard.

REALTY LOOKING UP

go below 82c. Not that there is any special significance to be placed on that particular fact, but the market evidently had been "pegged" there, and when it reached close to that point to-day operators thought it was safe to take on a little load. This buying, aided by better export tusiness, assisted the upturn in prices, but at 83% for December a prominent local trader saw fit to sell a considerable quantity. Other traders followed suit, and there was some realming on the early purchases.

A moderate business reported in corn. The feeling was easier, and though at times the market ruled higher, purchases of year, November and May were made by a prominent local speculator. There was no outside news brought to bear on the market. The market opened a shade below and closed, the closing quotations of yesterday changed but little and closed 160 to the fact that shorts have covered of late and longs wanted to unload and found few buyers. Offerings were free and prices receded 160% of trade being for that month. A fairly active trade was reported in pork. Prices irregular, the market elosing at about inside figures.

A little more merest was manifested in lard, trading being light. Shorts provided for a few contracts which tended to strengthen the market slightly, especially for the near deliveries. Prices were advanced 2565c, but settled back again, closing quiet. The market for ribs attracted little attention. Prices ruled 567% higher for October delivery, while other deliveries were without material change. An apparently well authenticated rumor obtained considerable currency on Fourth avenue yesterday, to the effect that a fine boulevard is to be made at Oakland by changing the course of Ward street, so as to run it directly through the McKee property. According to information received, the boulevard will be 150 feet wide, with grass, shrubbery and shade trees, and a good class of houses on each side. A thoroughfare of the kind indicated would add immensely to the already great attractions of that fine district.

There has been a remarkable revival of interest in real estate within a week or ten days, and the outlook is good for an active market the remainder of the season. The inquiry is confined to no particular locality, but extends to every part of the city and suburbs. The demand for business sites is better than for a long time, while building lots are eagerly sought for. Values are a little higher in a few favored localities, but as a general thing they show very little change. Capitalists are taking more interest in realty this fall than usual, and many of them are putting their money in it instead of mortgages, as they have figured out that it

Speaking of the rapid decline of the stock of the Philadelphia Gas Company, a Fourth ave-nue broker said yesterday: "The statements of the company that the plant is in better condition than ever before, that there is plenty of gas, that recent shortages were due to the fact that new mains were being laid and connec-tions made, and that earnings are largely in excess of last year, do not harmonize with the facts as understood by the public. If they did the stock would be away up instead of away down. Although I do not believe that gas i giving out at the wells, it is certain that it is giving out in the pipes. While the company persists that there is plenty of gas, consumers say they have barely enough to get along with, and sometimes none at all. It is this that is hurting the stock. It is probable that the company has undertaken a greater task than it can perform. The mistake seems to be that it is seeking to supply a large part of alleghens controlled. of Allegheny county when it has only enough gas to properly supply Pittsburg. If it would limit its business to its capacity and not endeavor to drive away other companies by invading their territory, by acting the hog, in short,—it would get along all right and stockholders would not suffer. As to earnings and all that, while I do not pretend to say that the company's statement was "cooked," everybody knows that it is easy to make figures. I think a more conservative management—more regard for the interests of the many who have bought the stock, and not so much for the few on the inside—would bring the company out all right. It is a matter of great importance to Pittsburg, and there ought to be no shenanigin about it."

Contrary to general behef the Wilkinsbur Natural Gas Company has not surrendered the the Weymond place, near town, but is quietly at work on well No. 2, which is almost down to the sand. Experts who have examined the well say the indications are good for a No. 1 producer. The cil well is still plugged and nothing will be done with it until the result of the new venture is known, as it is intended to make it the final test of the field. Members of the company think they will come out all right

Their substitution by first-class structures would divert a large volume of business to that district which otherwise will go out Penn, Liberty and Fifth avenues. If holders of property down there are wise, and do not want to make improvements themselves, they will abstain from asking fancy prices of those wanting to purchase and are willing to pay a fair consideration, for the privilege of investing their money in improvements where

With the exception of plate, which has hardened a little, there has been no material change in the iron trade since last week. Rails are firm at $32 and thereabouts. The mills are very busy on orders, which they cannot fill fast enough, although running night and day. New enough, although running night and day. New business for early delivery is out of the ques-tion. The prospect is for a continuance of activity throughout the season. In regard to prices, a broker remarked yesterday that he thought they had about reached high-water mark. A further advance would be injurious to the trade, as it would start up many old plants now idle and lead to overproduction, and perhaps foreign competition.

BUSINESS GETTING BETTER. A Good Movement in Local Stocks, With

Few Weak Spots. There was a fair amount of sales at the Stock Exchange yesterday, but the dealings were confined to two properties—Philadelphia Gas and Pleasant Valley Railway. The sales were 710 shares. In the bond list the movement was limited to Citizens' Traction 5s, which brought 109. Pleasant Valley Railway shares were in good request and stronger, showing that investors have confidence that the pending deals for consolidation will result in benefit to the Philadelphia Gas opened with good support, at 32, but later in the day it weakened on free offerings, and closed at 31%. A broker fixed 25 or thereabout as the price before the decline is checked. But the completion of the big main and other improvements to increase and maintain the supply ought to turn the tide in its favor. The other natural gas stocks kept Philadelphia company.

Electric was stronger, but dull, and the same holds good of the Tractions. As to the latter, however, there are strong indications of a revival of interest and, perhaps, of prices. The rest of the list presented nothing new. Bids, offers and sales follows:

The Chartiers well was the principal bearish feat though the persistent selling from day to day by New York was the cause of some uneasiness, as the market is in no condition to withstan such assaults, Oil City, as usual, bought, while Pittsburg was content with a little while Pittsburg was content with a little pyking.

Washington county advices were: Kelly & Co,'s Hudson well is in the top of the sand and has filled up 1,500 feet with oil. If this well proves to be a good producer it will start another great oil boom near town, as it is situated a quarter of a mile ahead of developments. The Gosford Oil Co,'s Acheson is a good producer, having made 150 barrels the first 24 hours, and increasing by striking another streak to over 400 barrels.

A DAY OF DEPRESSION.

The Stock Market Opened Heavy and Feverish and Afterward Became Posttively Wenk-A Fierce Attack Made Upon Union Pacific.

NEW YORK, October 17.—The stock market to-day was heavy and feverish in the forenoon, but became positively weak later in the day, and material declines were scored all over the list. Several banks were known to have called in loans at 6 per cent and put the money out at a higher rate, which, with the vulnerability of the money market to manipulation, developed a great indisposition to buy anything this morning, and, although liquidation was small, the bears were encouraged and became very aggressive, the local contingent and the Chicago people being conspicuous in helping prices to a lower level.

St. Paul and the other Grangers were given special attention in early portion of the day, the earnings for St. Paul for the last year being known to be unusually large and a decrease of liberal proportions was expected. The stock yielded fractionally and when the actual decrease was found to be only $4,200 the pressure. crease was found to be only $4,200 the pressure, was changed to the other stocks of that gro up Burlington and Quincy was the next object and it yielded more readily than St. Paul, dropping about 2 per cent, followed by Rock Island and Northwestern, all of which reached lower figures than they have seen for some time.

The Northern Pacific neeting showed that the opponents of the Villard scheme were routed and a vigorous attack was made upon the preferred shares of that company under the impression that the defeated party in the stock would endeavor to dispose of their holdings and an effort was made to give the selling that complexion. The offerings were very heavy and a decline from 75% to 71% was the result.

that complexion. The offerings were very heavy and a decline from 75% to 71% was the result.

The decline in Northern Pacific preferred dragged down Oregon Transcontinental and the movement afterward spread to the stocks of the general list, and Lackawanna, Manhattan, Union Pacific, Chesapeake and Ohio and other specialties became prominent in the downward movement. The talk of making Tampa, Fla., a port from which a large export business was to be done as the terminus of the Richmond and West Point system and others made that stock unusually active and strong at the outset, but it soon quieted down, though sank into obliviou before moon, though the early rise was lost toward the close. The Trusts were quiet and ruled strong almost all day long, though their fluctuations were small and their final changes insignificant.

The pressure was continued until the last minute and the market closed active and weak at or near lowest prices for most of the stocks of the regular list. The entire active list is materially lower this evening, and Northern Pacific preferred and Manhattan lost 3 per cent each, Oregon Transcontinental 1½, Rock Island and Chesapeake and Ohio second preferred 1½ each, St. Paul 1½, Northwestern 1½, Union Pacific 1½, Lake Erie and Western preferred 1 per cent and others generally fractional amounts.

"About three years," he continued, "are required to bring the plant up to a good lea-bearing standard. The first year they are allowed to grow up about seven feet high, when they are cut down to a height of three feet and kept as low as that ever afterward. The leaves are picked every ten days all the year round, the whole plantation being gone over by the laborers, who are imported coolies. The natives of Ceylon are hopelessly lazy, and won't work at it. About one laborer to an acre is recovered.

The stock of potatoes in the hands of commission men is lighter than for a week or two past. Good potatoes are firm and will soon go nigher. He is still hearty and strong, and works just as hard as ever—about 16 hours a day. He takes the greatest interest in American affairs and the coming Catholic celebrations in America. Of the dedication of the great university at Washington he talks constantly, and considers it will be one of the greatest institutions of learning in the world. I

"What is the condition of affairs in Italy?"

"The Pope deplores his present position very much. There is no doubt but what the present trouble will soon actuate His Holiness in taking some decisive step."

"Will he leave Rome, and, in that case, where will he go?"

"While regretting the indignities that have been heaped upon the Vatican, the Pope dislikes the idea of leaving the city of his predecessors and the seat of the Catholic Church for so great a period of years. But if insults continue, there will be but one thing to do, and that will be but one thing to do, and that will be to leave. There are many rumors affoat in Europe as to where the Pope would go, but no one will know outside the Vatican until the move is made. I see an American politician has advised that the English Government relinquish Ireland to His Holiness. I have nothing to say about the proposition, though."

PROFITABLE CULTIVATION OF TEA.

Good Reasons Why Ceylon Teok Is Up When Coffee Falled.

H. C. Green in New York Star.]

I met yesterday, at the Metropolitan Hotel, A, Melville White, an English gentleman, who is a large tea planter in Ceylon, and is now en route to England. He came by way of San Francisco, and is taking a comprehensive view of the States on his way home. He tells me that a disease having destroyed the coffee trees in Ceylon about five years ago, the planters substituted, with success, the cultivation of tea.

"About three years," he continued, "are required to bring the plant up to a good lea-bearing standard. The first year they was the proposition, though."

MRS. ANNIE EVANS.

MRS. ANNIE EVANS,

No. 910 Second avenue, has recently been cured of catarrh and a bad lung trouble, from which she had been a great sufferer. She had ringing in her ears, pain over her eyes and disainess. She had a continuous hawking and spitting of the catarrhal secretion that gathered in her taroat, and as the poisonous matter extended to her lungs she coughed badly. The pressure and pain she felt in her lungs told her only too plainly that the disease was fast progressing. Ulceration set in, causing frequent hemorrhages. She became very weak, nervous, and solidom could get a good night's sleep. Her stomach gave her much distress after eating, and she also suffered terribly from diseases peculiar to women. After consulting the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepais Institute at 323 Penn avenue she began treatment, and of the result she says: "I am very glad to give my testimony. I have been cured of all the above diseases, and gladly recommend these physicians to those suffering from diseases of their specialty.

MRS. ANNIE EVANS."
